Jeffries, a quarterback, is a member of the junior class at Peddie, and a varsity player on the basketball and baseball teams at the school. His father was a member of the class of 1919 at Peddie.

Boro Man Injured Banquet Tendered In Gas Explosion

Black Knocked From Ladder by Force Of Blast

One Narberth man was among the ten injured in an explosion at the Philadelphia Gas-Work Co. manufacturing plant at 31st St. and Passunk Ave. on the Schuylkill River Thursday morning. He is Joseph L. Black, 41, 403 Essex Ave., Narberth.

The explosion knocked Black from a ladder. He was treated at the Methodist Hospital for burns and a leg injury.

Later at his home in Narberth, Mrs. Black said that her husband's face had been broken but he recovered from other injuries. She said he would have to go back to the hospital in a few days for further treatment.

The explosion occurred at 9:50 in the generator house for the manufacture of water gas, one of three components of the illuminating gas piped to consumers. It blew out windows of the two-story steel frame building and caused a shutdown of the plant.

Fire that followed the explosion was quickly extinguished by company firemen, assisted first by firemen from the Philadelphia Fire Department. The explosion caused a shutdown of the plant.

Dunne Prophecies Fierce Competition

Tells Norristown Club To Continue Practice Of Rotary Principles

Customers never change. Ralph S. Dunne, of Narberth, "Spoking as One Businessman to Others" told members of the Norristown Rotary Club, Thursday at its luncheon meeting at St. John's Parish House, Norristown.

Mr. Dunne, Governor of the 179th District of Rotary International, brought the local club members an interesting picture of his 23 years in business and suggested that in times of peace or in war, "people still like thoughtfulness, courtesy, kindness and convenience and the merchant or industrialist who practices these common things, uncommonly well is bound to achieve success."

The Narberth businessman predicted that this nation is about to enter an era of "fierce competition" and he implored the Rotarians to practice the principles of their service club in giving service.

"I meet with my own employees every other week," Mr. Dunne related. "I tell them that business is a triangle, composed of maintenance, employees and customers. Take away any one of those three sides and the business will collapse."

Recently I had occasion to see how well one of my employees practiced what I urged. I had a Negro employee who had been with me since I started business. He was a truck driver and his conscientiousness to customers won us many new customers. He was stricken with infantile paralysis and the people he served took pity on him and provided a fund that not only paid all his hospital and doctor bills but wiped out the mortgage on his house to provide future security. That man did common things uncommonly well.

Mr. Dunne lauded the Norristown Rotarians for their work in sponsoring the vocational guidance round table at the high school for the past several years, pointing to this as an example of the service that can and should be extended to future citizens by a service club.

Rev. Dr. Elmer A. E. Palmquist, 37 Narberth Park, Narberth, was the guest of honor at a testimonial dinner in Mitten Hall of Temple University, on the occasion of his retirement as executive secretary of the Philadelphia Federation of Churches.

Dr. Palmquist, the first and only man to hold this office, told more than 500 persons, representing the religious life, city administration and business interest of Philadelphia, that there were "only 57 pastors of the city today holding the same pulpits they held 25 years ago" when he was appointed to the secretaryship.

"It has been my high privilege to help lay in this city the foundation for Christian co-operation, mutual respect and confidence among representatives of 23 denominations," he said.

Dr. Palmquist stated that he would be available now as a supply pastor.

The hostesses were the Lower Merion police, and Officers John Padden, Louis Hansen, and Sgt. Charles Barr rushed the children and their mother to the Bryn Mawr Hospital in a police ambulance.

Ferrell, a finisher at the Continental Corporation America, Manayunk, was called to the hospital for a light case, but he died last Friday with infantile paralysis.

Bond Drive Opens Without Chairman

Carl Metzger to Head Campaign In Narberth Borough

Lower Merion Township opened its Victory Loan Drive on Monday minus a chairman to head the campaign and several of its district leaders.

The drive in Narberth Borough will be headed, as in previous Federal loan drives, by Carl B. Metzger, Jr., cashier of the National Bank of Narberth.

Lower Merion and Narberth, together, have been given an assumed quota of $1,810,480 which is under the quotas they have had for previous drives.

Although Lower Merion lacked a top chairman for the Victory Loan Drive, the campaign was well supported.

The Pennsylvania Company, along with other Main Line banks, has been acting as a Federal agency for War Bond investors.

Gardner said he was not worried about the lack of a chairman because the soliciting machinery used in other drives would automatically take care of the drive.

Navy Discharge Shot in Accident

Game Commission Warns of Dangers Of Souvenir Guns

Robert Bell, 21, Negro, of 2716 County Line Rd., Ardmore, a Navy discharge, was injured last Thursday evening when he accidentally shot himself in the leg.

Bell was looking at a souvenir gun in the back yard of his home when it went off, the bullet entering his leg. He was taken to Bryn Mawr Hospital where he was treated for a small fracture of the leg bone.

He received his discharge from the Navy about six months ago after serving in the South Pacific for over a year.

The accident followed close on the heels of a warning of the Pennsylvania Game Commission to sportsmen and others to beware of souvenir guns brought back from the theaters of war.

Pointing out that the American serviceman is inherently a souvenir collector, the commission warned that this tendency is very apt to prove a disastrous boomerang in many cases.

The commission pointed out that the souvenir gun is a dangerous weapon and should be treated as such by every American.

A total of $1,276 for the Fred Banks Fund was announced this week by one of the members of the executive committee. The fund for the driver of coal trucks for the Ralph S. Dunne Coal and Oil Company of Narberth, although rapidly gaining ground, is still far short of the committee's expectations.

Plans are being made for the committee to visit Banks and plan for meeting current bills, and payments on the fund.

In announcing the list of new donors this week, one of the organizers of the fund expressed his appreciation to newspapers cooperating in bringing the Fred Banks Fund to the attention of the public.

When Lancaster Pike—still known by that name to many, but now officially the Lincoln Highway—was a toll road, the fee was five cents per mile. The road was freed in 1917, and the last toll road in the State—also in Montgomery County—was abolished in 1923.

Now the plan is to have the new turnpike follow the Lincoln Highway through Lower Merion Township to Philadelphia.

The Philadelphia and Lancaster Turnpike Company, whose incorporation was authorized by an act of the Legislature in 1923, was the first such company in Pennsylvania. Toll roads had been chartered at an earlier date in Virginia, but Lancaster Pike is believed to have been the first turnpike constructed with broken stone after the manner of the macadamizing process.

Toll Gates May Return Again When State Extends Turnpike

Last Toll Road of Old System Was Abolished In 1927; Fee Formerly Five Cents a Mile; Alexander J. Cassatt Was Leading Spirit in Early Years

Two men identified with Montgomery County were elected officers of the corporation when it was organized, July 8, 1923, at a tavern in Downingtown. William Moore Smith was made secretary. It was he who laid out the Town of Montgomery on the Pennsylvania upon the establishment of Montgomery County in 1794, and he undertook to sell the lots of the new town for the University. He lived here for a time, but he met with no great success as a real estate operator.

One member of the board of managers was David Rittenhouse, famed astronomer of his day whose home prior to the Revolution had been on Germantown Pike, near Fairview Village.

The other officers chosen at the organization of the turnpike company were: President, William Bingham; treasurer, Trench Francis; managers, John Nicholson, Alexander Dallas, George Meade, Israel Whelan, George Latimer, Thomas Fitz-Simons, Richard Thomas, Edward Hand, Paul

Wood Seen as GOP Choice For Senate

County Chairman To Succeed Edmonds At Harrisburg

Montgomery County Republicans seemed agreed this week that Lloyd H. Wood, of Evansburg, chairman of the Republican County Committee, will be the organization's choice to succeed State Senator Franklin Spencer Edmonds, who died Monday.

Senator Edmonds' term would have expired on the first Monday in January, 1947. He had stated some time before his death that he would not be a candidate for re-election, and Wood was considered the logical choice as his successor.

Unless there is an extraordinary legislative session called by the Governor, no special election will be held and the naming of a Senator as successor to Mr. Edmonds will not be held before the Primary in 1946.

The Senate is not scheduled to re-convene until January 1947.

The Act covering the point involved says:

"Whenever a vacancy shall occur in either house of the General Assembly whether or not it then be in session, the presiding officer of such house shall issue a writ of election to fill said vacancy, which may convene on a date not less than 30 days after the issuance of said writ. The presiding officer may fix, in such writ of election, the date of the next ensuing primary, municipal or general election as the date for holding any such special election. Provided, however, That, should the Governor after the issuance of the said writ of election, advise the presiding officer that the General Assembly will be called into extraordinary session prior to the date set for such special election, the presiding officer shall thereupon issue a writ thereof issued and shall issue a new writ of election, fixing therein such earlier date thereafter as is deemed expedient, but which shall not be less than 30 days after the issuance of said writ."

Mr. Wood, who for months has been boomed as the County's next State Senator, is now leader of the County's delegation in the House of Representatives as Assemblyman from the County's Third Legislative District.

Contest Is Only One To Enliven Election; Anticipate Light Vote

Pray Says One Party Monopoly Should Be Broken; Voters Will Also Elect State and County Officials; Four Amendments Up

Narberth Borough Registration

Aside from one contest in which Democrats seek to break the Republican slate for a seat on the Narberth Borough Council voters of the borough are looking ahead to a quiet election next Tuesday.

Polls will be open from 7 A. M. to 8 P. M.

The Borough's political leaders this week were free in predicting they feared one of the lightest votes in years because of the lack of contests and the preoccupation of most voters with problems of peacetime reconversion.

Neither Republican or Democratic leaders anticipated more than a 40 per cent turnout at the polls.

Fennell L. M. Pray, lone Democratic candidate in the Borough, gave the campaign the only spice it has had so far with an appeal to Narberth voters last week.

Declared Pray last week: "One Democrat in Borough Council will not destroy the Republican Party but it will restore representative government."

He asked the Narberth voters: 1. Do you believe that local government should be a foot all of partisan government? 2. Do you believe that good citizens, capable of serving Narberth well, should be excluded from local public office because they do not wear one certain party label or belong to one political faction? 3. Do you believe that one-party monopoly of local government, for ten years on end, is necessary, desirable or fair? 4. The Borough's citizens will go to the polls on next Tuesday to vote on two judges for the State Superior Court, a Montgomery County prothonotary and a jury commissioner and to elect the following for borough offices: four borough councilmen, a justice of the peace, a tax collector, a burgess and auditor.

Voters also will register their opinion on four amendments proposed to the State constitution. These would provide (1) that revenues from motor license fees and gasoline taxes shall be used exclusively for highway and air navigation facilities; (2) that sheriffs may succeed themselves in office; (3) that local election boards shall be chosen at municipal elections; (4) that the State issue a $500,000 bond issue for public works.

The following candidates will be voted upon Tuesday:

Judge of the Superior Court: John C. Arnold, R.; W. Heber Dithrich, R.; A. Marshall Thompson, D.; John Morgan Davis, D.; Charles Palmer, Pro.; William Conrad Edmond, R.; Arnold and Edmond also listed on the American Labor Party ballot.

County Candidates

Prothonotary: Earl B. Bechtel, R.

Jury commissioner: (both a majority and minority party commissioner to be elected): Davis T. Kirk, R.; Michael J. Mullen, D.

Tax collector: John R. Hall, R.; Justice of the Peace: Vincent Coelli, R.; Fred Walzer, D.

Burgess: Richard L. Miller, R.; John A. Fowler, R.

Society Woman Gets Summons in Traffic Accident Case

Mrs. John R. Valentine of Highland Farms, Bryn Mawr, has been summoned by Lower Merion Township Police following an accident on Sunday afternoon on the railroad near Railroad Ave. in which considerable damage was done to the car belonging to Richard L. Cobb of Glenside when the car she was driving struck the car.

Mrs. Valentine, who is 70, has done little night driving of late but Sunday her chauffeur wanted the evening off so she was, unfortunately, driving her own car. As traffic became heavier she ran into Cobb's car which was parked at 371 Lancaster Ave.

Sen. Edmonds Dies; Noted Tax Expert

Montgomery County Legislator Succumbs After Long Illness

Funeral services were held at 2:30 Thursday at St. Thomas Episcopal Church, Whitmarsh, for State Senator Franklin Spencer Edmonds, 71, Philadelphia, Monday afternoon after a long illness.

Senator Edmonds had served as Montgomery County's Senator at Harrisburg since 1938. More than a year ago, because of the impairment of condition of his health, he moved from his Montgomery County home on Sheff La., Whitmarsh Township, to Philadelphia. But he maintained his legal residence in Whitmarsh at his "Leave Area Farm."

He had been in poor health since he was stricken several years ago while attending a conference of tax experts at Cincinnati. But despite the poor condition of his health he retained his seat as Senator and at every opportunity went to Harrisburg to carry on his Senatorial duties. On one occasion he was stricken after a long drive and had to be removed to his home.

Born in Philadelphia, March 28, 1874, he was a graduate of Central High School, class of 1893, and the Law School of the University of Pennsylvania, class of 1903.

While a student in law school, he worked as a reporter for the Philadelphia Record. He started
